LINING-OUT EVERGREENS

Out of 2¼ Inch Pots

These are not common ordinary rooted cuttings. They are vigorous plants with good root systems. The stock, from selected specimens, was put in the propagating houses in November and taken from the sand in June. All poorly rooted plants were DISCARDED and the SELECTED ones only were potted in good rich soil in 2¼ inch pots. They have made fine growth and are well established, with lots of roots in a good pot-ball. It does not pay to plant evergreens which have not been properly started. These plants are just right to be set in the nursery row, and you should get a 100% stand.

Transplanted Evergreens

1 and 2 Year Field Grown

Our lining-out transplants are grown in an ideal clay soil, in well cultivated rows in the full sun, where they have plenty of room to make stocky plants with good root systems. They should not be compared with light weight, soft rooted, artificially watered, bed grown plants.

Winter Window Boxes

These transplanted evergreens make excellent material for winter window boxes. Plant in October and November, keep well watered during the winter and they may be planted out next spring and the boxes filled again with blooming plants for the summer.
